

LOCAL WOMAN'S CLUB ANNOUNCES SEASON'S FIRST PROGRAM DATE

Subjects Outlined for Year Indicate Culture and Civic Interest

MRS. H. H. GRIMM, PRES.

With arrangements completed and a strong membership built up for the ensuing year, the members of the Antioch Woman's Club have announced October 5 as the date for this season's opening program, since the club is actively operating only from October to May, inclusive.

Judging from the series of programs which have been outlined for the club year, the women are heartily enthusiastic about upholding the primary objects of their association which are, "intellectual growth and unity of effort toward civic improvement." Many of the program themes, such as current fiction, rock gardens, and the antique shop are indicative of intellectual and social culture, while in others there are evidences of co-ordinating civic interest, examples of which are motion pictures and child welfare.

Declared a legally organized corporation under the laws of 1928, the club has been in existence as such, almost three years, it being known prior to that time as the Woman's Club of Antioch.

Managed by Board of Directors. According to the articles of the association the management is vested in a board of directors, consisting of the president, vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer, past presidents, and the chairmen of standing committees. The regular meetings are held the first and third Monday of the month during the club year.

Officers Must be Well-Qualified.

Article III indicates that the framers were unusually shrewd in regard to who should hold office. As would be expected, the president must be particularly well qualified in that she must have "served at least one year on the board of directors." That "character, intelligence, and willingness to give active support to the work of the club" should have been specified as the qualifications for membership shows that the adapters were likewise conservative in regard to who should become affiliated with the organization.

There is a ripple of fraternalism in the following pledge which each one who is accepted into the club must take: "I have promised to give to the Antioch Woman's Club my hearty support in all its work."

Activities connected with the club are varied and in harmony with the high ideals maintained in the bylaws, as may be seen from the departments of work listed in the yearbook.

Officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Mrs. H. H. Grimm; vice-president, Mrs. A. Maples Thorpe; secretary, Mrs. O. C. Mathews; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Bacon; treasurer, Mrs. J. Brogan.

"IN SCHOOL DAYS"

Grade School High School

Running true to form, members of the Antioch township high school football squad again went places and did things when they defeated the Fox Lake fellows there with a score of 7-6. Saturday. The local team was within 3 yards of making a touchdown as the final whistle blew.

The first home game of the season is to be played with Arlington Heights Saturday afternoon. Arlington is reported to have a heavier and more experienced team than Antioch, but the local boys are rapidly learning the fundamentals, and it is expected that they will put up a good fight. In connection with this game the members of the senior class are formulating plans for homecoming dance which will be held after the game.

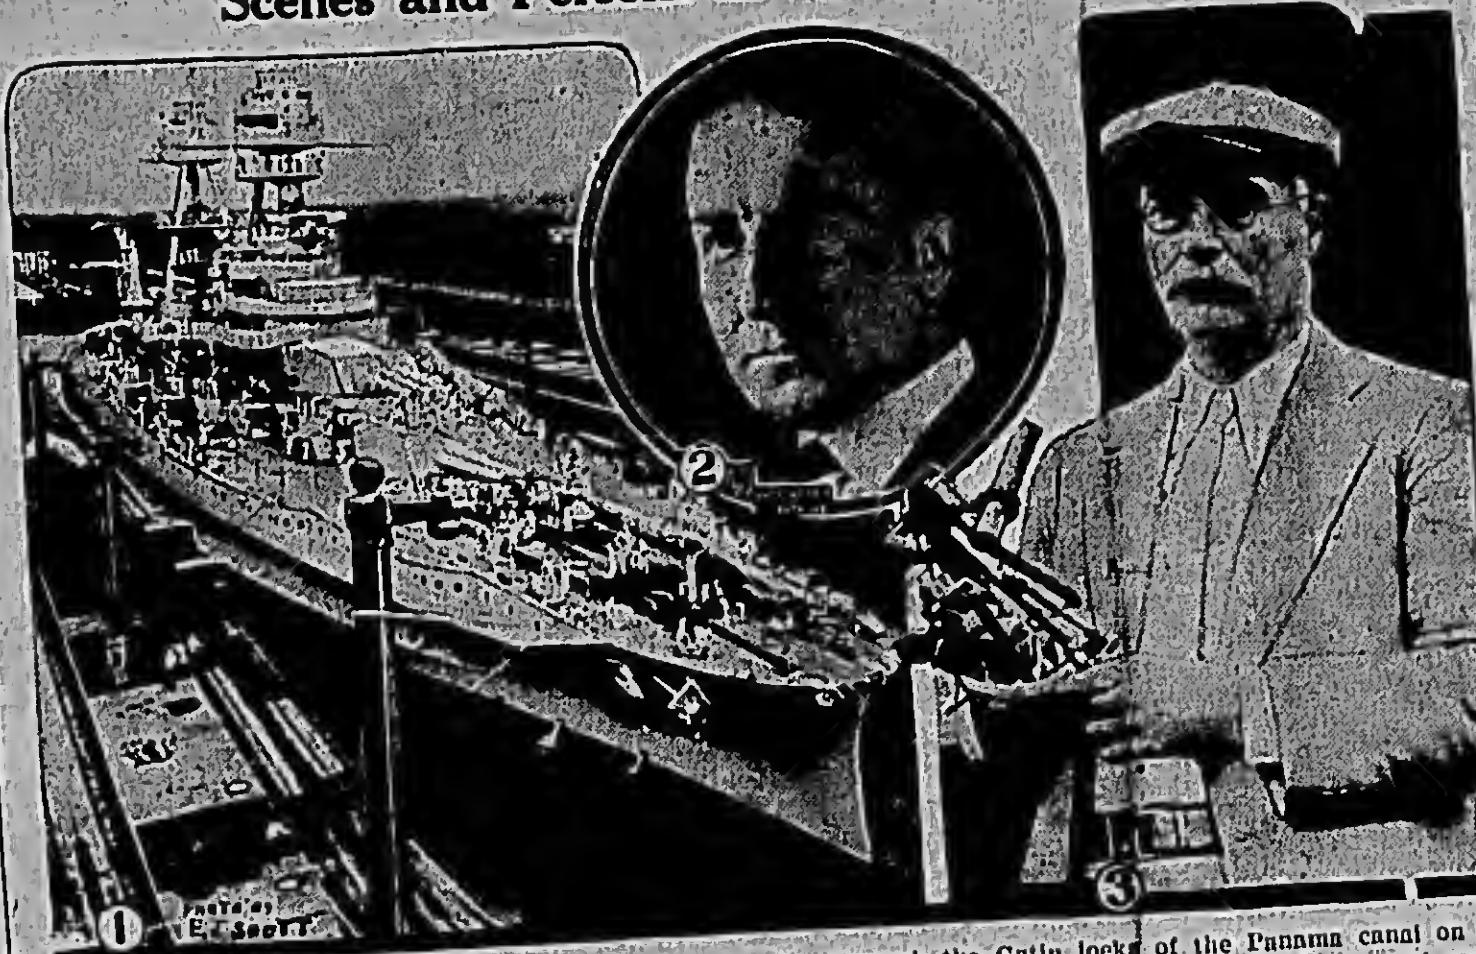

The schedule for the rest of this season is as follows:

Antioch plays Arlington Heights there, October 3; Gurnee there, October 9; Racine there, October 17; Palatine there, October 24; Leyden here, October 30; Libertyville there, November 11.

Tuesday morning, Antioch high school students and faculty members had the opportunity to listen to the first of a series of programs which have been arranged by members of the conference. Glenn L. Morris, who is connected with the University of Wisconsin, Lyceum extension course, gave an illustrated lecture on electricity.

GRANDALS LIKE CANADA Les Grandals and party are enjoying their vacation trip in Canada, according to a comic card received here today from the general Los. Yesterday they left Fort Frances, Ont., to return to Minnesota.

OFFICIALS SAY FAIR EXHIBITS WILL BE LARGE

October 8 Is "Entry Day"; Free Attractions to Be Staged

Expecting to throw open the Antioch County Fair grounds gates to a fair which promises to outdo the exhibit that last year commanded the praise of state and national farm leaders, officials will open their second annual fair, one unique among agricultural exhibits of the state here next week.

The opening day, October 8, has been designated as "Entry Day," when all those who exhibit will enter their exhibits, while Friday is "Wisconsin Day," when the folks from that state will gather at the fair and rub elbows with their neighbors. "Lake County Day" will be on Saturday, October 10.

Day and Night Fair.

The fair will be open during both the day and the night. Free attractions on the stage will be presented in the afternoon and again in the evening. A band concert in the early evening will be given Friday and Saturday.

Chickens, pigeons, turkeys, rabbits, etc., will form the largest exhibit of the fair. The poultry shows at Antioch in the past years have been the largest outside of the Coliseum and the Milwaukee Auditorium shows. It is expected that this year it will surpass all former records.

Grains, fruits, and vegetables will form another exhibit, and flowers another. Lake county schools will compete in booth exhibits. A large entry of school exhibits is already in.

Women will exhibit canning, baking, sewing, and fancywork, and fine arts.

The Future Farmers of Lake County will have an exhibit of livestock, including dairy herds, sheep, and hogs.

Entertainment Good. Besides the free acts and the band concert, there will be rides, games of skill, shows, and other entertainment.

Commercial exhibits will be on display in large numbers. Anyone can spend a full day there and then perhaps miss something worthwhile.

All school children, including high school pupils, will be admitted free each day. Exhibitors will have admission passes. All others will be admitted by paying the small admission price of 25 cents. Parking of automobile on the grounds will be free.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Duzer Are Surprised on 54th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Van Duzer were very pleasantly surprised on the occasion of their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary when several of their children gathered at their home Wednesday night to help them celebrate. Delightful refreshments were served.

WILLIAM J. STRATTON
Secretary of State
Honorable William J. Stratton, Secretary of State, and President of the Fox Lake Golf and Country Club, who will be honored by his fellow club members and hundreds of friends at Fox Lake, Saturday.

OFFICERS WILL BE INSTALLED HERE TONIGHT

Alonzo Runyard, Caroline Horan Head Legion, Auxiliary

DANCING, CARDS TO FOLLOW CEREMONIES

Permeated with all the pomp and dignity identified with the American Legion and yet with a striking simplicity complementing the impressiveness of the occasion, the joint installation of the newly elected officers of the Antioch post of the American Legion and Legion auxiliary will become a success for visitors when members from posts throughout the state will come here tonight to witness the ceremonial rites.

Those who will be installed officers of the Legion are as follows:

Commander, Alonzo Runyard; senior vice commander, Rev. Rox Slans; junior vice commander, W. K. Hills; finance officer, Clarence Shultz; sergeant-at-arms, George Hebrachmiller; member executive board, S. M. Walence; delegates to county council, Paul Chase, Russell Mead.

While those heading the auxiliary are: President, Caroline Horan; first vice-president, Katherine Rolke; second vice-president, Sime Laursen; brazier, Elizabeth Webb; sergeant-at-arms, Alma Hardin; chaplain, Kathleen Skinner; secretary, Ethel Rosell; treasurer, Eda Walence.

Following the investment of charges there will be dancing and cards. Refreshments will also be served.

Friends' Night to Be Held in Antioch

Friends' night, a function associated with the Rehekaah Lodge, will be held here in the Odd Fellows hall tonight. Members from eight other lodges will be present to all stations. Refreshments will be served.

GOLF CLUB TO HONOR STRATTON SATURDAY

Secretary of State William J. Stratton will be honored Saturday by the Fox Lake Golf and Country Club, of which he is president.

Invitations and tickets to the affair have been distributed to hundreds of the secretary's friends, and the committee in charge is planning to make the occasion a gala event.

A golf tournament will start at 1 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded to winners. The evening will be devoted to a special program.

Preparations were being made today to decorate the village of Fox Lake in honor of the secretary, according to Fred Elter, of the Helvetic resort hotel.

Serving on the committee with Chairman A. G. Highgate, are H. L. Scott, A. Gardner, F. J. McDowell, L. W. Brydges, and George Neilson.

Those desiring reservations should notify N. Rohansen Jr., secretary of the club, box 315, Fox Lake, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tate, Chicago, were house guests of Mrs. Elberta Strohan, Sunday.

Mrs. Hugh Hunter and son and daughter, Orville Rock, Neb., were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Duzer, Wednesday.

COME TO WAUKEGAN OCTOBER 10, 11 AND 12

The Allied Campaigners, a national movement, representing all of the dry forces in general for the purpose of upholding the eighteenth amendment, will hold meetings in Waukegan in the Masonic temple, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, October 10, 11, and 12. These meetings are held for all of Lake County, and the Lake County Prohibition Council is co-operating in promoting them. All churches in the county are asked to announce the meetings, and to secure large delegations.

These Allied Campaigners visit Waukegan as one point in their coast-to-coast itinerary of 269 cities. Preparations for these meetings have been in progress for two months, and it is expected that all the drys of Lake county will rally to the support of the movement.

Prohibition leaders of national prominence will be the speakers, and leading citizens of Waukegan and Lake County are on the committees which are promoting the program. The Rev. Gilbert Stansel, of Waukegan, is chairman of the general committee.

Colonel Raymond Robbins, social economist, nationally known, social and economic authority, will be one of the speakers on the program. Norma C. Brown, one of the well-known women advocates of prohibition, will also speak. She is one of the leading authorities on prohibition, and is secretary of the Allied Forces, the national organization.

Daniel Peeling, chairman of the Allied Forces, will appear on the program Monday afternoon and evening, October 12, and Oliver W. Stewart, vice-chairman and editor of the Allied News, will also speak on that day. Robert C. Ropp, chairman of Allied Youth, will speak Saturday, October 10, and with him will be Dr. Ira Landirth, chairman of the citizenship department of the Christian Endeavor.

The speakers will come to Waukegan in three divisions. The first division will appear Saturday, October 10, and Dr. Ira Landirth and Robert C. Ropp will be the speakers. The second division, coming Sunday, October 11, will include Raymond Robbins and Norma C. Brown. The third division, on October 12, includes Daniel Peeling and Oliver M. Stewart.

Meetings will be held on the afternoon and evening of each day, at 2:30 and 7:30.

One phase of this work will be the taking of an enrollment of the county, blanks being circulated to be signed by all who will uphold the eighteenth amendment. The local organization, the Lake County Prohibition Council, will carry on this work after these meetings, taking the enrollments, and co-operation with the Allied Forces in their national movement.

The admission to all these meetings is free, and they will be held in the Waukegan Masonic temple.

This is one of the significant rallies of the continent-wide sweep of this new movement to uphold prohibition, and which is sponsored by well-known business men, educators, and social workers of the nation.

Among those sponsoring the movement and supporting it financially are Richard H. Scott, president of the Reo Motor company; Robert E. Farley, president of Robert E. Farley, Inc.; Orrin R. Judd, vice-president of the Irving Trust company; and E. C. Sams, president of the J. C. Penney company, and others.

HOME TALENT PLAY TO AID ANTIOCH NEEDY

Community Chest Committee to Stage "College Girl" October 19 and 20 Here

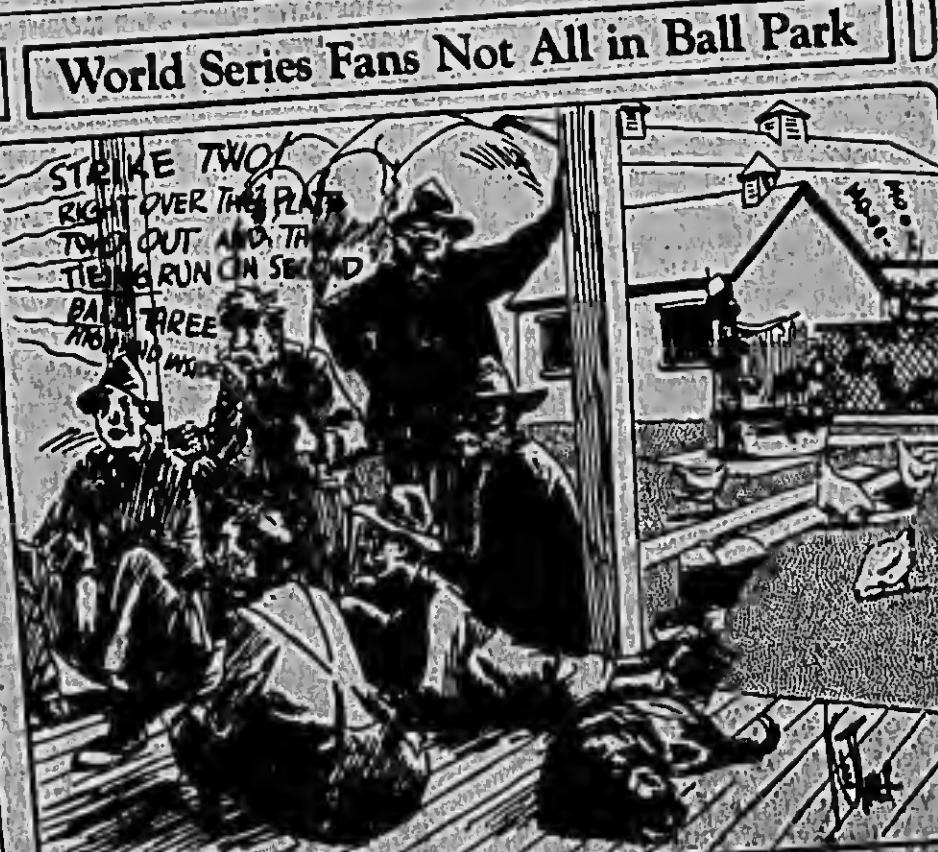

The Community Chest organization of Antioch, through its committee, has completed arrangements for the staging of "The College Girl," a local talent musical comedy at the high school auditorium on October 19 and 20.

The production will be presented by a cast of many local celebrities before a background of pretty girls, appearing in the most gorgeous costume array ever attempted locally.

As a special added attraction, 100 local maidens will take part in a miniature wedding preceding the regular performance, which will be called "The Wedding of the Little Doll."

In presenting the double attraction, the committee plans to interest the entire community in the project and in so doing hopes to make it the outstanding theatrical event of the season.

BE LOYAL TO THE HOME TOWN

"You're a slacker!" Wow, how it hurts! The fellow who had "You're a slacker" hurled at him during the World war was the recipient of about the most insulting remark that one might make about another. Wow, how it hurt! But generally the term was correctly applied and the person to whom it was said had no comeback.

A real man would rather be dead than be a slacker and all that the hurtful word means. There are slackers and slackers, prominent among them being the community slacker. He's the type or she's the type of person who buys his or her merchandise out of the home town. You know the type. You know them as individuals who make their money through sharing in the advantages and opportunities that your good town offered. You know them as the persons who accepted liberal credit and financial assistance from your home merchants and bankers when they were getting a start on the road to fortune. You haven't much use for them now, have you? They're doing all of their buying out of town. They are doing nothing to show merchants and bankers their appreciation for favors so cheerfully rendered but few years ago.

Community slackers are a real menace to any town. They don't seem to appreciate that the mail order houses are soulless and heartless corporations that care nothing about civic welfare—good schools, roads, churches, and all other good things that go to make life worthwhile.

Community slackers pay not into the hands of their friends and aiders in time of trouble, but into the hands of the wily, shrewd, humanless entities who suck the life blood out of good towns and who care, after all, for nothing in the world except the Almighty Dollar.

There never was a capable up-to-the-minute home town merchant anywhere that could not show any mail order house if the world card and spades in successful merchandising. He can do so because he puts his heart and his soul into his business; because he has the personal welfare of his customers ever uppermost in his mind and because he is loyal to his home town and will, therefore, take advantage of his customers in any way.

Don't be a community slacker. If you buy merchandise away from the home town, stop before it is too late.

Stop before your town has gone to seed and your merchants have gone out of business. Erase the stigma of being a slacker from your name. Begin this very day to be a loyal home town patriot by doing your buying at home.

ADVERTISING WILL DO LOTS FOR YOU

Advertising, although it has many enemies, does lots to help those who make it a part of their business policy. Most important of all its functions is the stimulation of consumption and the speeding up of production. Advertising usually creates enough additional wealth to pay for itself many times.

Contrary to the belief of many, the consumer does not pay the advertising bill, even though the advertiser does not pay it out of his profits.

Appropriations of five, ten, and even fifteen millions of dollars to sell the most ordinary commodities are commonplace today.

Small wonder that the average man on the street is shocked by the mention of such amounts; they are quite beyond his comprehension. Can he be blamed if he concludes that advertising is an extravagant luxury for which he and every other consumer must pay? This doesn't happen to be the case, however.

READERS ARE MOTIVATED BY SUGGESTION

It has been said that if one hears the same thing sufficiently often one begins to believe it. Too often one fails to analyze or philosophize concerning the facts of the case. This is the principle of all advertising. During the late war many of us were stirred almost to thoughts of murder because of the propaganda spread on the sheets of the daily press.

There is one large class of readers, the neurotic and emotionally unstable individuals, who clamor for the sensational and melodramatic. They can close their eyes and almost place themselves in the positions of those about whom they read. In short, they are morbid and seek their kind, as the depressed individual hates the sunshine. These persons are peculiarly susceptible to the lurid descriptions of suicides and of murders too frequently featured and illustrated in some of our newspapers.

The suicide's act is almost invariably the result of a mind that has always been poorly balanced or has become acutely so through sickness or stress. Such minds are ever open to suggestion and especially so to suggestion of unfavorable character. These individuals are nearly always newspaper readers and the story of a suicide sensationalized set forth by the press is too often the influence which pushes them over the line by suggesting ways and means.

The press will help all the public and injure none by not printing so many details of these tragedies.

THE ANTIOTH NEWS, ANTIOCH, ILLINOISTHE MACHINE AGE APPLIED TO CRIME

Methods Employed by Criminals Demand New Police Methods, Bankers Association Official Declares.

USE by criminals of modern technological developments such as automobiles, machine guns and airplanes have given them advantages which old-fashioned local and disconnected police systems are powerless to combat and the situation demands the broader modern protection of State police systems, James E. Baum, deputy manager American Bankers Association in charge of its crime investigating department, declares in the protective section of the American Bankers Association Journal.

"The Association's Protective Committee has repeatedly urged the advantages of extending state police systems beyond the nine eastern States which have enjoyed this protection for many years," Mr. Baum says. "This time has passed when we can safely rely upon the disconnected and often-times ineffective methods of local and county police. The advent of automobiles and better roads, to say nothing of machine guns and airplanes, demands the same wide latitude in authority and field of operation to give the police no less than the criminal."

Statewide Police Plans Best
He quotes a Kansas Judge as saying that "our system of sheriffs and constables was not designed to meet present-day conditions. As a system of law enforcement, it is as out of date as old common-law pleading, both evolved about the same time. The semi-military, highly trained State police officer owing allegiance only to State laws, is the most effective agency for order yet brought forth."

"Every year the robbery experience of banks in the nine States having State police proves the merits and urgent need of State-wide police protection," says Mr. Baum. "Last year, for example, there were 38 bank holdups in Connecticut, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia where State police forces are operated," he continues. "Although this total is exceptionally high due to the record in eight central and far western States, we find a total of 304 bank holdups in the latter group. The odds, therefore, continue to be not less than 8 to 1 against the banks in these western States, where they are denied the speedy, coordinated action of State police and their modern means of transportation and communication. The same comparison holds true of the farmers' losses through robberies of livestock, poultry, produce, etc.

"Moreover, West State police forces invariably yield an operating profit in the amount of fines collected and the value of stolen property recovered. Bankers interested in cutting down the cost of robbery insurance might well consider this job of extending State police systems as a timely, co-operative service to be undertaken alongside the farmers."

Taxpayers' Questions

When taxpayers have paid enormous taxes for penny politicians to squander, who is to blame for the financial condition of the community?

Does not wanton waste of public funds cause weetless want for taxpayers of any community?

How far does the printing racket reach?

When will the taxpayers get cheaper current and gas?

Why are so many public utility employees mixed up with civic clubs, school boards, chamber of commerce and charity drives?

When talk is cheap and advice is free, what taxpayer wants to listen to talk or advice from self-appointed civic leaders, busied bankers, and penny politicians?

Where is the nigger in the woodpile of taxpayers when the sheriff and a supervisor get into print over the auto towing racket?

Why does a local press feature so much the opinions of a city engineer who guessed at the dirt market in some jobs and made a $10,000 mistake in the concrete paving?

What will property owners do when cities and "special assessments for extra" come due next January?

The delinquencies in special assessments for Lake county are estimated at only a million and a quarter dollars but who other than the bondholders should worry when the politicians stand mute?

With warfare at 7 cents and electric current at 9 cents, why should a utility concern fuss about its tax valuations?

If an honest man is the noblest work of God, is it not terrible how many mistakes walk about dodging personal taxes?

If a city cannot pay its electric light bills without tax warrants bearing interest, why install white ways to further increase the public burden on taxpayers?

How many bent taxpayers have noticed the current stock quotations on some gilt-edged bank securities?

Seven-cent carfares, 13-cent milk, 9-cent electric current, $1.35 gas, high taxes, 25-cent fuel rackets, inefficiency in public offices, busted banks—is it any wonder taxpayers have to help each other through a taxpayers' news paper?

Why do city dada object to being panned about the white way when they ignored the taxpayers' petitions to kill this tax-consuming racket?

A taxpayer wants to know whether or not the commotion and uproar about the aldermen being illegal is stirred up by a disappointed self-styled detective?

If the teachers are willing to pay 2 per cent unary to get pay checks, why not take a 2 per cent salary cut and give the taxpayers a break?

How many taxpayers have a board of supervisors for a Santa Claus to buy clothes and furniture for them, not to mention electric refrigerators and uniforms?

Why are taxpayers wondering what the cost per bushel will be this school year?

How do taxpayers like it when a federal employee agitates trouble and mixes in local squabbles over annexed territory, etc.?

Are taxpayers getting well set to use the ballot box at the next election to rid themselves of tax wasters?

Why is a water board and not the duly elected aldermen of a city in absolute control of a filtration plant and its employees when taxpayers are expected to pay the bills?

Why should taxpayers agree that it is essential to human existence to go outside of town to get a head of the waterworks and an office chairwarmer to sit in a city hall?

Is anybody trying to get control of a filtration plant in Lake county?

LAKE COUNTY TAXPAYERS' NEWS

TAXPAYERS HAVE MOVING BEE AT WAUKEGAN HALL

Volunteer Workmen Help Mayor and Aldermen to New Home

STRIPE LED IN VICTORIOUS FIGHT

Last Saturday there was a moving bee in Waukegan where the aldermanic council abandoned the Higley property to locate the city hall on the second floor of the Bunting building, across from the post office building on South Utica street.

So many taxpayers were elated that they offered their services to clean the city's property out of the Higley building and fix up the new home of the aldermen and Mayor Peter W. Peterson.

Carpenters and painters volunteered their aid along with the muscle of many who carted the municipal property away from the Higley homestead, which has been made famous in the courts by the late commission and the taxpayers who fought against paying $100,000 for it as a city hall.

Under the leadership of President Harry Stripe, of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, a relentless battle has been fought against the office-holders to maintain the law and rights of the people who at the ballot box refused the commission a city hall building.

The commissioners defied the organized taxpayers; however, the right and might of the people have been effectively asserted, with the result that those who attempted to tax the people against their will, face the cost of some $20,000 of water funds converted to the down payment on the Higley property, and for at least that much used to alter the premises for a city hall. Mayor Petersen and the aldermen have redeemed their promises to get out of the Higley building and are being congratulated much, but not as much as President Harry Stripe of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, under whom the people have fought successfully several battles with the overbearing politicians, who have been cast into the official discard.

Last spring when President Stripe was elected for the third time, he intimated that he would remain president only long enough to end the Higley matters which were carried on in his name in the court. President Stripe has given much more than his fair share of valuable time to the public good and when he retires from office it will be with the thanks and good wishes of innumerable taxpayers who have profited so much by the battles of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association to enforce the laws and economy in taxation.

Under the magnificent, magnificient leadership of a person whose sole object has been the golden rule, the militant taxpayers' organization has always won its battles in the long run, and many feel it will be difficult to secure a leader as powerful and resourceful as President Harry Stripe, and, consequently, many have expressed the hope that he will not insist upon his announced determination to retire from the presidency of a group which is doing so much practical good for the taxpayers of the community. However, all appreciate how much the hard work for the taxpayers has burdened Mr. Stripe's health and personal time for his own bread and butter affairs, and so it is said his admirers will respect whatever his wishes may prove to be, namely, to end the great satisfaction of the taxpayers who have enforced their will to get something for their tax money and to save money during hard times, when all are so hard-pressed for the necessities of living.

How do taxpayers like it when a federal employee agitates trouble and mixes in local squabbles over annexed territory, etc.?

Are taxpayers getting well set to use the ballot box at the next election to rid themselves of tax wasters?

Why is a water board and not the duly elected aldermen of a city in absolute control of a filtration plant and its employees when taxpayers are expected to pay the bills?

Why should taxpayers agree that it is essential to human existence to go outside of town to get a head of the waterworks and an office chairwarmer to sit in a city hall?

Is anybody trying to get control of a filtration plant in Lake county?

In a municipal audit reports tax wise, what would a real audit of a county reveal?

Reduced Taxes In Hard Times Is Seen as Relief

Tax Items Around Lake County

By LAWRENCE F. ORR
Chief Examiner, Board of Accounts,
State of Indiana

Since the Bonnie Brook municipal golf course started at Waukegan this year, 29,749 rounds of golf were played, with $16,205.76 receipts, while disbursements were $9,000. It is estimated that the season will close with $9,000 over gross expenses. The course cost $160,000 and the interest charge is $6,000.

Presumably the taxes will never be increased on account of this municipal business venture, but that subject is under a careful watch by militant taxpayers.

There is a suit for an accounting pending on account of the $20,000 paid down upon the Higley property just being abandoned by the aldermanic government which is respecting the decision of the appeal court that decided in favor of the late commission of taxpayers against the late commission of Waukegan.

The county treasurer will start a $200,000 suit against the New York Indemnity company, October 17, to recover losses in the Waukegan State Bank failure in which the county was caught for $367,000.

Personal taxes were increased in McHenry county, $367,000; utilities were increased, $186,634.

Specie payment has been resumed for city employees at Waukegan.

PUBLIC BODIES TOO NUMEROUS FOR THE GOOD OF FARMER

One of the United States department of agriculture experts, B. Allin, is credited with the belief that there are too many overlapping forms of local government for the farmers' pocketbook.

He says in part:

"Farmers on the average will have to sell three times as much produce this year with which to pay their taxes as they did in 1913. This statement rests on the fact that farm produce on the average is now selling for only three-fourths as much as it did before the war, and farm taxes per acre in 1930 were more than two and one-half times the pre-war level."

"From the standpoint of the farmer, the farm tax problem has been viewed largely as a problem of how to shift a part of the farm tax burden to shoulders more able to bear it. It is not my purpose to minimize in the least the importance of this aspect of the problem. Nevertheless, especially in times like these, there is need for dealing with all parts of the problem.

"Most of the farmer's tax is a local tax devolved largely to defraying the costs of rural counties and their political subdivisions such as townships and school districts. The development of the automobile during the last twenty years has been one of the more important causes of the great increase in the cost of county and township government. Today the automobile and the highway, built as a consequence of its development, are causing public authorities and others to question seriously the real usefulness of a considerable number of our counties, township, and school districts—either from the standpoint of efficiency or democracy.

"During the past twelve months three studies bearing directly on this question have been made by three separate and distinct agencies and in three quite unlike sections of the country. It is the conclusion of all three that there is a great need for centralization and modification of our system of local government in the interest of efficiency and economy.

filtration plant so much concerned about a municipal audit?

Is it not very amusing to militant taxpayers to observe the street and alley conventions of persons whom the taxpayers kicked out of the Higley barn?

When may the taxpayers expect return to the county treasurer of money paid a supervisor for the inspection of the court house addition?

Taxpayers, is it not going to be a hard winter and what are public officials going to do about lessening the tax burdens?

When will the taxpayers tire of having generation after generation of some families eating out of the public crib?

If a civic organization "blackball" a taxpayer who quits one job to take another, why should not all taxpayers "blackball" the members of this organization?

Why is a certain contractor on the gazette?

T. B. Funds Depleted; Reduce Health Staff

Depletion of the funds of the Lake County Tuberculosis association has caused a reduction in the county health staff, according to announcement of the association officials this week.

The report that the association is without funds to carry on leads one to wonder what has become of the fund, approximately $6,000, that was raised for the year's work through donations and the sale of the Christmas seals.

The salary of the county nurse is reported to be $170 per month and that of Miss Madeline Gaffigan, orthopedic, $150, while the office clerical received $85 per month, making a total of $400 per month salaries. It is reported that salaries were increased for this year, but the amount of the increase is not known. The association is also reported to have purchased a new car for the nurses' use. All of which leaves very little of the association revenue to be used in the fight against the white plague in Lake county.

Contributors are interested in ascertaining just how much of the association's revenue has actually been used for the purposes intended.

"A good name," said Ill Ho, the sage of Chinlewei, "is of great value no less in mercantile announcements than in moral reputation." — Washington Star.

of overloading of supplies upon a corporation. Supplies have been bought in certain places which will last for several years.

I know of no instance or two where a township trustee purchased at the end of his term enough supplies for various sorts to last for the next four years so that his successor in office could not have this opportunity. Many of these supplies will never be used and the township is out several thousand dollars. Material purchased for certain improvements and road work has been paid for at three times the cost. It would have been to any individual.

"Cost of services of physicians to the poor has been pyramidized. I know of one county where such services cost more than 29 per cent of the total poor fund expended, as compared with food and clothing furnished to the extent of 35 per cent of the total amount expended. These doctors charged $3.50 per call and listed two and three times as many calls as were actually made.

"I know of instances where doctors were paid by their patients for services and these same patients, people of means, were listed as paupers and the physicians were paid by the township as well as by the patients themselves. Poor fund orders have been used as collateral in borrowing money from a bank.

"There are many instances of wild expenditures of public money, yet they are within the law. The remedy for such conditions is with the people.

"The cost of education is approximately one-fourth of the total cost of government in Indiana. I would not take away from the child any educational advantages provided; yet a proper systematizing of internal school corporations would make a considerable reduction in expenditures for education.

"The legislature being importuned, passed the holding company laws under which holding companies organized and erected school buildings. The school corporations would then contract to pay an annual lease rental for them, with option to purchase ultimately for the total rental paid over a period of years.

"Some of these buildings have cost the corporation two and three times as much money as they would have to cost had the corporation been able to issue bonds and erect the buildings themselves.

"In calculating the lease rental to be paid annually, interest, insurance and all overhead and financing costs were figured in together with construction costs, with a profit upon the same. In some places in the state a $200,000 building will cost the corporation $600,000 by the time completed payment is made.

"Naturally this has added greatly to the cost of government, since it occurred where such corporations had already bonded themselves up to the legal limit.

"Thousands upon thousands of dollars of interest is being paid annually throughout the state. In many places bond issues have been refunded and the amount of interest in some instances has already exceeded the principal of the original issue.

"Waste and extravagance expenditure have added enormously to the cost of government. Supplies have been purchased at prices beyond the market price, and there are instances

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Identify" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 27.

The Golden Text was, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name" (I. Chronicles 29:11, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal" (10, 335).

MALONE MEN FORM A NEW TYPE OF ORGANIZATION

Country Towns of Cook County Form Endless Chain of Volunteer Units.

Park Ridge, Ill.—When William H. Malone, former Chairman of the Illinois State Tax Commission, flung his hat into the ring for the Governorship, he sprung a real surprise on the political world by setting up a new and interesting type of volunteer political organization. It is made up of a Committee of One Thousand from Cook County country towns—one thousand men and women, banded together into volunteer units of four persons. Each unit is working in a locality it has itself chosen. Already the results of this form of volunteer support for Malone's candidacy have proven so successful that the Committee of One Thousand has announced that it is carrying the same method into many other counties in the State.

Political observers feel that this unique political set-up will not be Malone's only unusual contribution to what already bears promise of being one of the most colorful primaries in the State's history.

"First Citizen" of His Community.

William H. Malone has lived in Park Ridge, one of Cook County's most thriving country towns, for over 30 years. At the overflow meeting at three thousand of his fellow townsmen, Mayor William A. McKee of Park Ridge, Chairman of the Committee of One Thousand, said of Malone: "As a local business man in building and real estate, as a country banker, and as a civic leader, he has contributed immensely to the growth and prosperity of his community. He has made a definite imprint, not alone by the high character of the buildings, both residential and business, that he has given the citizens of Park Ridge, but also by the progressive stand he has always taken on all public matters."

An excellent picture of Malone's wide interests and varied interests is made evident by his many affiliations and activities. He is a member of the Episcopal Church; Lake Shore Athletic Club, the Loyalty Order of Moose, the Masonic Fraternity, the Park Ridge Country Club, and the Hamilton Club. He is Chairman of the Board of the Citizens State Bank of Park Ridge, and a Director of the Jefferson Park National Bank.

20 Years of Public Life.

Malone's first public office was that of Mayor of Park Ridge, to which he was elected in 1911.

In 1912 he was elected Chairman and member of the Illinois State Board of Equalization. Here he served until 1917, acquiring a splendid background

HOUSE FLY MOST HARMFUL INSECT

Capable of Carrying Six Million Germs to Human Body or Food.

A loss of $858,000,000 annually is caused in the United States by "public enemy" insects which may be classified as household pests, according to O. E. Heidenburg, director of the Tex Research Foundation, Chicago, which is engaged in a nation-wide campaign for insect extermination.

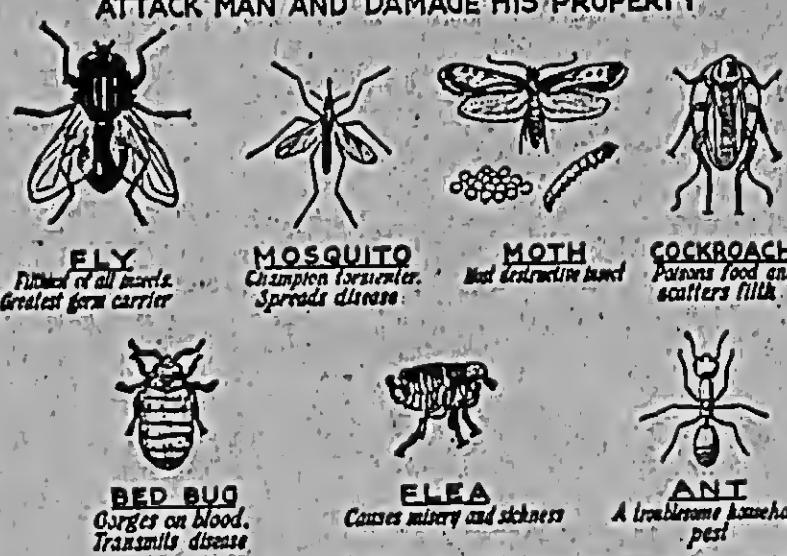

These insects cause the loss either by carrying germs or destroying property, Doctor Heidenburg said. He added that the most destructive and dangerous seven kinds of insect pests to the human race are the fly, mosquito, moth, cockroach, bedbug, flea and ant.

"The most harmful of all is the common house fly," he said. "Flies are known to be responsible for the spread of more than thirty diseases among the ailments being diarrhea, dysentery, typhoid fever, and many intestinal ailments. It breeds in the most foul and unsanitary places. One fly is capable of carrying as high as 4,000,000 germs to the human body or to food."

"The mosquito is branded the greatest tormentor of man and animal. She—the female is the menace of the species—not only irritates the skin

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Here are several hands that offer a game in, so that they can afford to take a chance that A-B can make their bid. Z has a sure trick in clubs and a chance to trump diamonds, so that if Y can take one trick, Y-Z have a good chance to beat the five-club bid. Z should, therefore, pass five clubs.

The bidding at Contract should be the same.

AUCTION BIDDING:

Rubber game, no score. Z dealt and bid three hearts, A bid three spades, Y bid four hearts and B bid four spades. Should Z pass or bid five hearts?

Solution: Z should bid five hearts. The rubber game is at stake and there is no certainty of the four-spade bid can be defeated. Even if five hearts cannot be made, it is good insurance to try to prevent A-B from making four spades game and rubber. The bidding at Contract should be the same.

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score. Y Z a game in, Z dealt and bid three hearts, A bid four clubs, Y bid four hearts and B bid five clubs. Should Z bid five hearts, double or pass?

Solution: Z should bid five hearts. The fact that his partner bid four hearts over one spade shows unusual assistance in that suit, so Z should not show the club suit. Holding two suits, one of which has been bid and assisted by partner, don't show the other suit. A two-suited hand is the strongest that can be held and, if you inform opponents that you hold such a hand by bidding both suits, they will make every effort to save game by over-bidding. In the present case, Z will probably be allowed to play a five-heart bid, which they should make easily. If, if Z should bid five clubs, A-B will see the danger of losing game and rubber and will undoubtedly bid five spades. It is an instructive hand and well worthy of closest study.

The bidding at Contract should be the same.

AUCTION BIDDING:

Rubber game, no score. Z dealt and bid one heart. A bid one spade, Y bid four hearts and B bid four spades. What should Z now bid?

Solution: Z should bid five hearts. The fact that his partner bid four hearts over one spade shows unusual assistance in that suit, so Z should not show the club suit. Holding two suits, one of which has been bid and assisted by partner, don't show the other suit. Solution: Clubs are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y-Z win three tricks against any defense?

Solution: Y should lead the jack of hearts and A should play the queen, Y winning with the king. If A makes the mistake of playing the ace, Y will win with the king. Z should then lead the seven of the five tricks. At trick No. 2, Y should lead the eight of spades and, if Z plays a low spade, Z therefore, Y-Z can win only three tricks.

Spades—10, 7, 5, 4

Solution: Hearts are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y-Z win three tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the jack of spades and allow B to win the trick with the queen. If B leads a diamond, Z should win with the queen and lead the four of spades, thus making two spade tricks good in Y's hand. This is an easy play, but comes up so often that it should be thoroughly understood. With no re-entry in the hand, it often is wise to lose the first trick of a suit and then play for the drop on the second and subsequent rounds.

Goes to Switzerland to Study

The church was packed full for the morning service last Sunday morning on the occasion of Homecoming day, and many of those coming from a distance took part in the program. Mrs. Harry Shattock of Lake Villa, N. G. Lentzner of Milwaukee, Mrs. George White of Millburn, and Miss Schubach of Lake Villa, gave solos, and a trio from the Reddick family and friends furnished music which added much to the service. F. R. Shorwood gave a short history of the church, from its beginning. Letters were read from many who live at a distance, and who were former members, among them being communications from Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Daniels, Portland, Ore.; E. L. Waldo and daughters; Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Douglas, Sarasota, Fla.; the Rev. N. G. McCloskey, Hazleton, Pa.; the Shepardson and Dawson families, Maywood, Ill.; and Miss Gertrude Winneke, Chicago.

Friends who came from a distance to the service were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurlbaugh, Highland Park; Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell and daughter, Chicago; Mrs. Blanche Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seeger and daughters, Libertyville; Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lentzner and son, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks and Meredith Hendricks, Ingleside; Mr. and Mrs. J. Denman, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. Jamison; and Mrs. Neilia Bain, Millburn; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Thacker and son, Waukegan; and the Reddick family, Chicago.

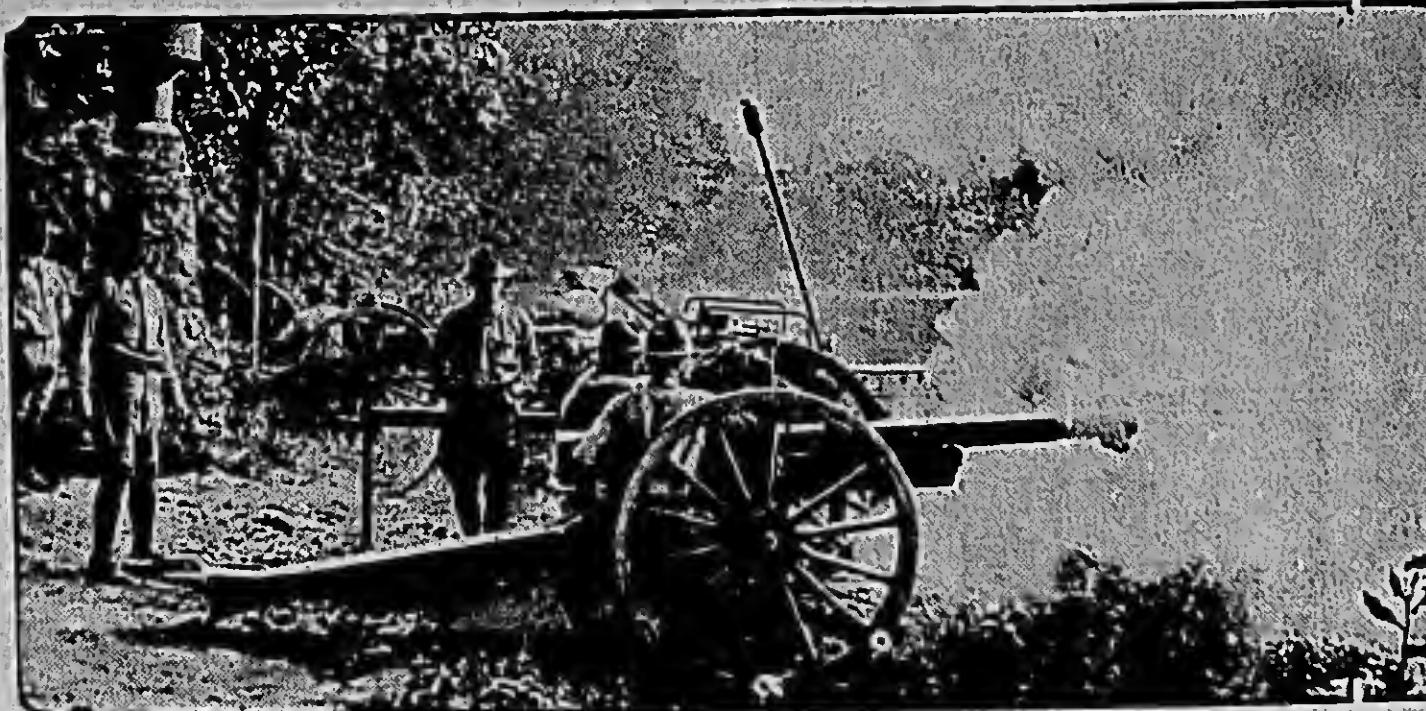

A very inspiring sermon was delivered by the Reverend Mr. Alsbaugh. The Ladies' Aid society had charge of serving the picnic dinner in the recently re-decorated dining room. The day was much enjoyed by all present.

Miss Helen Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williamson, has gone to Switzerland to study and will be gone a year. Miss Williamson was graduated last year from Rosemont college, near Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. A. Pedersen spent Thursday and Friday in Chicago with her mother, Mrs. Abent, and sister, Mrs. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nader and sons and Miss Bernice Nader, who has been with them for several weeks, spent Sunday at Frank Nader's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson and children, Chicago, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lentzner and son, Fern, Milwaukee, spent Sunday with friends here. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr Saturday night.

Lightning struck the big chimney on the Mundt house on Grand avenue during the storm last week and shook up the Cannon family who live there.

The Reverend Mr. Alsbaugh and F. R. Sherwood made a business trip to Grayslake and Waukegan Monday.

John Cribb visited his son, John Jr., at the hospital at Prairie du Chien, Wis., last Sunday. He hopes to have John home in a short time. Ben Cribb, who has been with his brother ever since his accident, was home for a short time last Thursday.

Hothouse for Every Plant

To shelter them from chill and speed their development every plant on some English truck farms is being supplied with a hothouse of its own.

The hothouses take the form either of forcing jars or solid glass or pyramid-shaped metal frames into which panes of glass are set. The latter type is the most popular because the panes can be replaced if shattered. Each type provides the necessary ventilation through a hole at the top.

HintsTan Will Not Go
Well With Your
New Fall Gowns

No matter how much you have read and heard about the necessity for preventing bad cases of sunburn and tan, the chances are that this month finds you with at least minor discolorations and probably major ones.

And now, as you begin to plan your new fall and winter wardrobe, you are realizing that, however becoming tan may be on the beach and with summer frocks, it is not the most becoming complexion with the formal styles and colors of fall.

Will you bleach, then? It is one sure way to be certain of a skin that looks lovely with any color at any time during the coming season. For remember that if you do wish to be tan, with some colors you can always wear a gypsy powder!

The bleach you use will depend upon the result you wish to obtain. In the first place, there are all varieties of tan to contend with, aren't there? From the light golden to the deep copper bronze, which usually remains well into the winter months, these individual tans require various treatments.

For a mild tan try the following recipe:

Make an infusion of parsley and horseradish and apply it to the skin. Horseradish infusion is made by pouring a cup of boiling water on two tablespoons of freshly ground horseradish. Parsley infusion is made in the same way. Cool, strain, mix them, and use together.

To remove a deep tan, try this stronger preparation:

Mix magnesia and rosewater into a paste. Leave it on the skin from 15 to 20 minutes and wash off with water softened with oatmeal or almond meal. The oatmeal may be thrown loose into the water or tied into a little cheese-cloth bag.

If you are still suffering from the irritation of sunburn, bathe with lime water and olive oil to which a small portion of boric acid is added. Use one part of lime water to two parts of oil, adding about 5 per cent of boric acid.

For severe cases of freckles and tan that do not respond to this treatment, procure a reputable freckle or bleaching cream and use according to directions.

Garments Should Always Be Clean
And Well-Pressed

Styles may come and styles may go, but one prime requisite remains to be followed by fashion's followers. Clean, well-pressed garments are competently necessary to the appearance of the ensemble brought in by the various seasons.

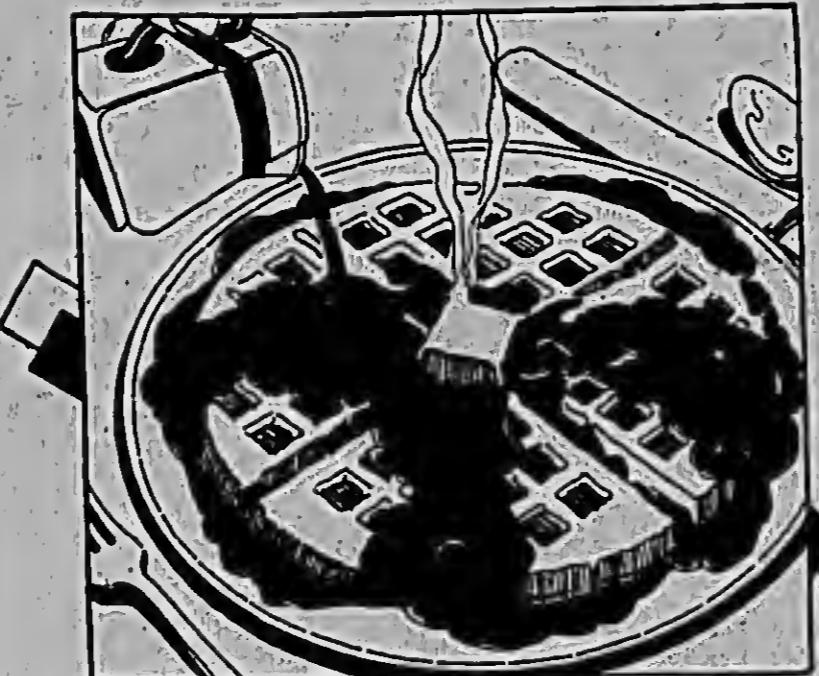

Despite the business depression, style still demands that well-pressed and cleaned garments be worn at all times. Aside from improving the appearance of the individual, the constant attention to clothes is of decided value in lengthening the useful life of the suits.

Additional cause for use of the cleaning and pressing service lies in the fact that it is possible to cover up the out-of-date cut of garments by keeping them in press. In the same manner really well-cut and fashionable clothes may lose their effect by the lack of a good pressing.

The fear of damage that once influenced people against the work of cleaning establishments has been removed by the advances in methods which have made possible the safe cleaning of all clothes from the finest silks to the roughest tweeds.

Tea for Mitzi and Teddy

MITZI GREEN, famous Paramount child star, is a firm believer in the custom of afternoon tea as a pick-me-up following a busy day in the studio. In her case, though, the "tea" is hot chocolate and the choice of sustenance is a cake with fuscous icing; both chosen because Mitzi loves them and because they provide the sweetest and quickest restorer of used up energy. Teddy is a silent but appreciative guest.

Better Breakfasts

BREAKFAST is your first taste of the day. If it tastes good, the rest of the day is likely to be a success. But if you start off dissatisfied, the day may be a disappointment. And it's so easy, after all, to put a little thought on breakfast, and serve at least one new dish instead of the monotonous "same old thing." Here's a suggested menu for a breakfast appropriate to this season.

Whole Strawberries
with Powdered Sugar
Ready to Eat Cereal
Cornmeal Waffles with Syrup
Hot Beverages

The different dish in this breakfast is the cornmeal waffles with syrup, here's the way to make them. Beat four egg yolks until thick and yellow. Add enough water to the contents of one 6-ounce can of evaporated milk to make one and a half cups, then add to egg yolks. Add one cup of sifted flour, four teaspoons baking powder, and one-half teaspoon salt. Add one cup cornmeal and then eight tablespoons melted butter, and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake as usual and serve with syrup. This makes seven or eight waffles.

Kasp Your Coffee Fresh

Whether your hot beverage is coffee or one of the products without caffeine which still give the coffee taste, be sure to buy one of the kinds that come packed in vacuum cans. That assures its perfect freshness until you open it, and putting it into a screw-top rubber gasket mason jar, and keeping the top screwed on tight will preserve its fragrance and aroma satisfactorily until it is used up.

Frog Raising Profitable

Frog culture is a newcomer to the live stock industry in the Hawaiian Islands, says the United States Department of Agriculture. After studying the market for frog legs and learning that the Honolulu market alone could handle 6,000 pairs of frog legs a week at 20 cents a pair, the extension service organized clubs in West Hawaii and on the Island of Kauai. Marketing specialists considered this demand sufficient to make frog raising a profitable enterprise.

The agricultural experiment station imported two species of frogs into Hawaii a few years ago because they feed on certain insect pests. They proved worthy insect fighters and likewise acquired a wide reputation for the cooking quality of their legs. The natives call these frogs "mountain chickens."

Politeness and Frankness

A great dent of "candid criticism" is just bad manners, and your best friend is sometimes the one who won't tell you.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

Hollywood Smile

DOROTHY MACKAIL, one of Hollywood's prettiest and most successful actresses of the talking motion pictures, sees plenty of laughter and fun in the film colony. In the Radio Newreel of Hollywood, radio feature in which she is heard, she shows that there is plenty of hard work too, and a sufficient number of days when the rule is early asleep and early awake for the day's tasks. Miss Mackail is one of several featured actors and actresses famous on the screen, whose voices are heard weekly in this 52 week radio serial. The sketch was especially prepared by Gasparo Ricca, noted New York writer.

Vandal Was (Im)-Patient Rembrandt's famous painting, "The Anatomy Lesson," in Amsterdam has been slashed by a vandal. The picture shows a surgeon at work, and memories of an operation probably made the vandal cut up.

Study Your Work
Habits and Save
Time and Labor

Do you spend more than twenty-five and a half hours a week in your kitchen? Figure it out, that means three and five-sevenths hours per day for meal preparation and clearing away, not including time spent doing the week's wash and similar work.

Many women are finding it a great saving of steps and time to study their work habits with a view to improving them. Better arrangement of kitchen equipment is one pathway they find to less tired feet and a happier disposition at the end of the day. And isn't that something?

The stove, sink, refrigerator, and working table should be placed conveniently to each other and also that labor equipment, such as pans, paring knives, envos, and sieves, should be kept where easiest to reach, and always in their place.

Why shouldn't you have a cheerful kitchen? You spend more time there probably than in any other room in the house, and so it should be as attractive and as convenient as possible.

If you can, have a rest corner where you can sit while the potatoes boil or the bread bakes, where you can catch up on a bit of reading or sewing when you haven't time to go into the living room. This corner might be very compactly arranged with an easy chair, work basket, a shelf for books above, and perhaps a tiny table for your cookbooks and recipe box.

If you find in your kitchen many things that do not belong there, such as toilet articles, plants, school hooks, tools, medicines and many other articles, why not make a place especially for them? Certainly they should not be on or in places used in the preparation and serving of food.

Cloak of Feathers

In the year 1843 King Kamehameha III presented a gorgeous cloak composed of the feathers of birds now extinct to Commodore Lawrence Kearny of the United States navy. This cloak is now on exhibition in the Bishop museum in Honolulu and is valued at $100,000.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

After the Pillows had agreed to serve under Egopli and Mr. Frog, Toppy cried,

"Then take your first order, Mr. Frog, tell them to stand aside while the Cushions rescue their countrymen."

Mr. Frog gave the order, and the Pillows meekly stood aside, while the Cushions hunted for the hiding places of their poor compatriots. At last a group of hungry, tired Cushions, who had not been able to escape from the courtyard when the Pillow prisoners were driven in, straggled forth, safe at last.

Toppy gave a last warning to the Pillows. "Remember, Egopli is your new ruler, your king. Be loyal to him. After a vacation, Mr. Frog will come back to advise Egopli until he grows a little older. Go now, and return to your land!"

Toppy flung the gates wide, and the Pillows streamed forth, ignoring the stirrups of their former queen, several stalwarts plucked up Egopli and bore him triumphantly aloft, as they marched back to their own land.

But Egopli called back, "Thank you, Toppy!" and then gave orders for his mother to be carried gently back to her Palace, and be treated respectfully.

As the Cloud-people prepared to leave for their land, free at last, Toppy looked around for Mr. Frog. He was gone. "He has gone to a warm land to take his sunbaths," Toppy thought, and smiled.

The Cushions escorted the Cloud-people to the boundary of their land. Just before the two armies parted, the Queen selected several Cushion noblemen to go as ambassadors to her court, as she had promised Toppy.

"From this misfortune has come some good," the Queen said, happily. "We have allied the Cushions as our friends."

"They traveled only at night, so that the Cloud-people would not weaken and melt, and reached the Palace just at sunrise one morning. The first sparkling rays touched the beautiful building gently, transforming it into an ethereal haven. Tears of joy coursed down the Queen's cheeks as she beheld it again, free from the invaders."

The rays of the sun failed to penetrate into the cool halls of the Palace. As the Queen stepped across the threshold, she proclaimed that a great jubilee and banquet would be held in the Palace. In an incredibly short time, Toppy found himself seated at the head of the banquet table in the beautiful throne room. Dainty delicacies were heaped before him, but he noticed that the Queen, her Maidens and the noblemen were eating nothing. Then he remembered that the Cloud-people thrived chiefly on kindness and friendship, and even as he looked, it seemed that already they were healthier and sturdier, as they chatted among themselves.

After the banquet, Toppy presented the Queen with the sword she had entrusted to him so long ago. "May you never have need of it again!" he said sincerely.

"Don't forget us," the Cloud-people called as he left. "Come back for a visit."

When he reached the edge of Cloud-land, he sat down to think.

"What is the matter?" he heard a voice inquire, and looking up, he saw Snowball, the old school teacher.

"I can't remember how to get home," Toppy said, disconsolately.

"Why don't you roll? Then you will remember," the old Snowball teacher told him.

(To be concluded.)

TIMARNS OF B'S'NPK

It's a strange tale of th' sea that I'm goin' to tell you this time. With my animal pals, Kangy and Singoot, I was cruisin' with an old shipmate of mine, Tops'l Barney. One mornin' th' lookout aloft yelled that a derelict was in sight at th' starb'd bow. She was low in th' water, partly sunken, and seemed to be abandoned. To make ure that there was nobody aboard I hopped into a boat with my pals and piled over to her. When we were alongside I made th' pinter of th' boat fast to th'main chaine, and we climbed aboard. Not a livin'soul was in sight. I hailed loud and long but there wuz no answer.

Meanwhile, Kangy had Singoot disappeared inside the deck-house, but came back yellin' out with eyes as big as dinner plates, and right after them, with a big pistol apitin' fire, and with a swearin' parrot perched on his shoulder, was a ragged little kid. I was settin' on th' deck, where I had been knocked by Kangy, and I looked with goggie eyes at that fire-eatin' youngster chasin' my pals about th' deck. When they finally headed in my direction I yelled. I thought for a minute that th' kid was goin' to plug me, but when he saw I was just a harmless sailor he almost cried he was that glad to see me. He told me his name was Tim, and that th' derelict was th' Lady Lou. When we were back aboard th' Lanui he told Barney and me how he came to be aboard an abandoned ship.

The next yarn will be a thriller, told by Tim himself.
